BUT FEW CASES ON CALENDAR JURY DRAWN.

The October term of Circuit court will convene next Tuesday, October 11. at 1:00 o'clock in the afternoon. It is expected, as usual, that Judge Guy E. Smith will officiate.

The criminal calendar contains two cases charged with violation of the prohibition law, and one for assault and battery. There will be one jury civil case and one non-jury civil case. The chancery calendar contains two divorce cases. This completes the list of cases as they now appear on the program for the term.

The cases in detail are as follows: Criminal—Orel Turner, violation of prohibition luw. Abe Jareils, vmlation of prohibition law. Isaac Jendron, assault and battery against an

This is the handicapping posses sion of Michigan school children, according to a statement made by Dr. Kenneth R. Gibson, director of the state department of health's newly organized bureau of dentistry and oral hygiene.

Of the 750,000 pupils now in school 561,500 pupils are believed public health authorities to be in need of dental attention. The number of cavities each child may have will range from one to more than a dozen, it is said. "On a conservative estimate there re at least a million cavities," states Dr. Gibson. "which should be treated immediately to save the teeth, preent sickness, oral infection, loss of time from school and possible scholustic failure.

"Parents are coming to realize that the so-called 'baby-teeth' are immensely important, and that their premature loss is the cause of the improper closure of the upper teeth upon the lower; they should take particular care to see that the four per manent first molars which erupt between the sixth and the seventh years about the time the child enters school are well preserved, for these teeth are the keystones of the dental arch Much of the impaired health in children, malnourishment and lack of resistance to sickness and disease is the result of improper mastication and assimilation of food, and unleal-

thy oral conditions."
"Take your child to the dentist at least once a year" is Dr. Gibson's advice to parents.

Michigan's allotment is about 31 earloads of which no one farmer can acroads of which no one farmer can acroad to the farmer is 7 cents per pound which makes a yery cheap explosive.

Distribution in the State is under the supervision of the Michigan Agricultural College. Taking of orders and the distribution in the counties is in charge of the county agricultural agents.

Perhaps there is sufficient farming land cleared in the United States so it is not necessary to clear up more just at present but on the other hand when explosive can be bought as cheaply as this it certainly does not pay a farmer to plow or fuss around stumps in cultivated fields.

Forty-four gallons of milk is used by each person in the United States annually, according to estimates made by the dairy division of the United States Department of Agriculture. This estimate, refers to whole milk and does not include that which is consumed in the form of ice creum, cheese, and butter. The amount is about twice as much as that used in 1890, when the per capita consumption was approximately 22 gallon The dairy specialists point out that the increase in the use of milk in the

The symphony of droning mowers cultivitors and threshers is a specific cure for shellshock. Of the thousands of World war veterans who turned to ag riculture at the termination of hos virtually all have rec भागितिका from the effects of shellshock. This is shown by a recent survey which is be tion of the American Legion. The report likewise indicates that shellshock victims who settled in the cities have not vet regained their bealth.

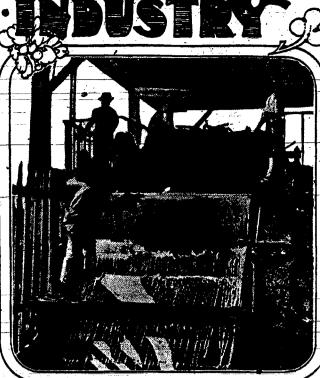

The experiment of sending shellshock cases to the farms was tried with success in Canada, where more than 25,000 soldiers have taken farm under the soldlers' re-establishment than $110,000,000 to these men, and their arst year's crop was valued at approximately $14,000,000. the World war climbed to heights of prosperity seldom attained by any other small country, has passed now into the valley of hard times; and the reason in both cases was the same sugar. For though the island's annual tobacco harvest is very valuable and though it has many other potential if undeveloped, resources, it is hardly overemphasizing the importance of sugar production to say that Cuba is a one-crop country. When European and Eastern sugar was unobtainable prices soared skyward and Cuba not only cashed in heavily on her usual production but feverishly increased her cane acreage and sugar mills, Now that sugar from the eastern hemisphere is reaching the world markets while Europe has little buying power. sugar prices have fallen to low levels and Cuba is finding her war-increased crop a drug on the market. Financial gloom has followed upon the heels of a most heetic prosperity, "as the night, the day."

Sugar-cane is grown by three classes of planters in Cuba. Perhaps the major part of the crop is grown by share farmers, or golonos, as they are called. The owners of the sugarmills furnish them with a given num-ber of acres of land to plant and give them ab agreed share of the sugar

They Made Money Rapidly.

The next class is composed of the land-owning farmers, who grow their own cane and have it ground on shares, after the fashion of the rural grist mill. The remainder of the canis grown by the owners of the mills themselves. At some centrals the "administration" cane, as that grown under "central" management is known amounts, to only 4 per cent of the total: at others it amounts to 90 per

Even the share farmer, at pre-wal prices, made money. According to "Cuba Before the World." the official handbook of the republic at the Pan-ama-Pacific exposition, when sugar was selling at 2.62 cents a pound, his the sugar brought him, on the basis of twelve sacks to the acre, return of from $46 to $51 per acre. When one remembers that the selling brice of sugar in 1920 was from four to six times as high as before the war, the size of the per-acre income at the high tide of prices is apparent.

Numerous new "centrals" were built. all capitalized on the basis of earnduring the early months of 1920. Sands of American capitalists invested in these flourishing enterprises. How Cuba's receipts from sugar expanded is shown by the fact that the 1915 crop brought, a total return of less than $200,000,000, while two-thirds of the 1920 crop (one-third remains unsold) brought $400,000,000.

Cuba, which immediately following the first place that each month of the the first place that each month of the grinding season produces its own-crop of mature cane. Here is a group of fields where the new crop has just sprouted; over yonder another group where the cane is half grown; and on farther is a group where harvest-ing operations are in full swing.

How the Crop is Harvested. In harvesting, the cane-cutters first strip the blades from the stalk; then they cut off the upper part of the latter, which is worthless except for replanting, since what juice it contains possesses very little sugar. One of the strange things about sugar-cane is that the sap of the growing plant has little sugar, while in the mature stalk the juice is rich in sucrose. action, of the sun's rays seems to transform glucose into sucrose & transformation that cannot be accomplished by human means. If man how to do that, every cornfield would be a sugar field.

The main body of the stalk is cut down_and_loaded_into_the_ox-carts In these it is hauled to the field sta-Each car contains about twenty tons used for trimming them. Very deep tops and each train is made up of thirty cars. This makes 600 tops of cane to the trainload, and eight trainloads a day are required to keep one of the bigger centrals in opera-tion for 24 hours. The big United Fruit central at Preston requires the crop from 250 acres every day to keep-it busy. Imagine a field three fifths of a mile square being barvestkeep one central going!

At the mills the cars of cane are dumped on an endless belt which car ries it to the crushing rolls. Each set of rolls the cane passes through presses it harder than the one before. The last set may exert a pressure of n million pounds, and when the bagasse, as the crushed cane is called, issues from them it is almost as dry as tinder. It is carried by conveyors to the fire-boxes of the bollers where it is used as fuel in generating the steam that drives the big mills and boils the cane juice. The stream of emished cape flows through the last set of rolls at a speed of seven miles a day.

Making the Sugar.

After the juice is freed of sediment it is pumped in the evaporators, where about half of the water is boiled out contact with hot steam According to figures furnished by the at a very low temperature because of Cuban department of agriculture, much the absence of atmospheric pressure. As the holling proceeds, the sugar crystallizes into amail grains.

The sugar and the adhering strup nlly removed to a contrifuga These conditions brought about no machine that acts somewhat on the principle of a creum separator. Placed inside a perforated and whirled around at from 1,000 to 1,400 revolutions a minute, all of the strup is forced out through the perforation while the crystallized sugar

A ton of sugar-cane yields four and one-half gallons of blackstrap molasses and one gets a good impres-sion of file immensity of the industry when, on a single day's rail journey, he meets a dozen solid trains of some forty ble tank cars each, every car full to the dome with blackstrap. After sugar has come from the centrifugals it goes to the bagging room where it is put into bags that hold 325 pounds each. These are hauled in trainloads to the docks and shipped to the United States, where the hig refineries remove the impur-ities and transform the sugar from

A Remarkable Record.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a remarkable record. It has been in use for colds, croup and whooping cough for almost half a century and cough for almost half a century and has constantly grown in favor and happularity and its good qualities became better known. It is the standard and main reliance for these diseases in thousands of homes. The facts that it can always be depended upon and is safe and pleasant to take are greatly in its favor when it is wanted for children.

To Gain a Good Reputation.

To Gain a Good Reputation.

The way to gain a good reputation is to endeavor to be what you appear.

That is precisely the manner in which Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has gained its reputation as a cure for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. Every bottle that has ever been put out by the manufacturers has iten fully up to the high standard of excellence claimed for it. People have found that it can be depended upon for the relief and cure of these aliments and that it is pleasant and safe to take.

Are you fair to your watch?

An automobile needs frequent attention. What about your watch—a mechanism infinite-ty more delicate?

CARBON in the moter of a car will decrease the running efficiency of that car. And yet the carbon will accumulate. The car owner, knowing this, has his car frequently overhauled—and the carbon removed.

And yet this same man, per-haps, will allow his watch, a mechanism infinitely more delicate, to run for years without attention. All the while it is acattention. All the while it is ac-cumulating dust - for tiny dirt particles will sit in through the most tightly fitting case and this will in time impede the time keep-ing performance of the watch

Your automobile performs oc-casional service, but your watch wenty-four hours each day. has it been since you took it to a jeweler for examination?

If your watch is to run at its highest efficiency, it should be cleaned, oiled and adjusted at least once a year—Moore the last particle of oil has disappeared from the bearings.

How Sost is Made From Clay. Clay in the "colloidal form," (up to about 50 per cent) of the fatty acids in sonp. Matter may roughly be said to be in the "colloidal form" when it is in an extremely fine state of subdivision. As clay is queap and soap relatively dear, the substitution of clay, in this form for fatty acids produces n notable reduction in cost. The clay is a real substitute for soup, and not an adulterant. Hot solutions of colloidat clay soap form jelties on cooling and thus this soap not only resembles ordinary sonp in appearance, but in cleanaing properties it is said to be even better than pure soap. Developments of this interesting discovery will be awaited with interest.—London Dis

Homer sings of the wrath of Achilles, but the beginning of all the trouble goes back of that, to the tale prised as he watched his flocks upon Mount Ida. The goddesses Hern, Athene and Aphrodite make him pion, and all know that in the end choose one of the world-old wishes; Achilles will win. The great scenes the judgment of Paris is for a fair are worked up to with consummate arface and love. To fulfill her promise Aphrodite leads him to King Menelaus' court in Sparts. The scene changes to Troy itself In an interval of the battle great Hec-tor of the Glancing Helm had gone to the citadel. And there he said fare-well to Andromathe, his wife, and to his little boy, a picture that has never been surpassed for true tenderness-although it was so many hundred years ago. He smiled and looked upo the little boy in silence. "Ah, Hector, she cried, "stay here upon the wall! Thou art to me father and mother and brother, too, as well as ford. The foe will attack thee alone!" "I know the day shall come," he answered, "when holy Ilios shall perish, and Priam and the folk of Pr goodly Ashen Spear. But thought of him, of my mother, of my brothers, some warrior of the Achalana shall rob thee of the day of freedom stretched out his hand to the little boy, who shrunk back to his nurse's in the east comes to his own and rescomes the true wife who bides at home and waits the triumphant return of him who shall free her from the trials that beast her.

The Greeks started the modern world going. As with learns they thought of the Sying-man, with Agameman of wireless tlegraphy in the measure he sent leaping across the serious Troy to Argon in the finnes upon the motion-pleture in the vision of all phant men and women who flitted before his eyes on his trip to the lower world, so, too, they introduced us to practically every form of human expression. The prese-romance came late in their development. The novel and the short story as they knew them for centuries were embodied in the Hisa and Odyssey.

Whether one poet wrote the Hisa and the Odyssey has been a question that has busied many thousands of minds. The prefect form in which they have come down to as preven clearly than many centuries centributed to the perfecting of the literary and biblical Gritielism in modern scholarship.

In hospitals are many women who are there for surgical operations, and there is nothing a woman dreads more than the thought of an operation, and the long weary months of recovery and restoration to strength if it is successful. It is very true that female troubles may through neglect reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but most of the commoner ailments of women are not the surgical ones; they are not caused by serious displacements, tumors or growths, although the symptoms may appear the same. When disturbing ailments first appear take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present distress and prevent more serious troubles. To Township Highway Comm'rs: Lansing Michigan, September 26, 1921.

To Township Highway Comm'rs:

Even though the state is spending vast sums of bond money in road construction, it is still true that the greatest road tax in Michigan is the tax which the people in the rural sections vote upon themselves at the annual town meetings. Last year this tax amounted to $18,495,280.04.

As much of this money is expended in hauling gravel to roads, a word or two as to the application of gravel and the maintenance of gravel roads afterwards, may not be amiss.

Too commonly a first class job is spoiled by neglecting the gravel after it is dumped, (too often not spread) upon the road. In fact it is left to pack itself and immediately becomes full of bumps and hollows which becomes so hard that they can hardly be smoothed except by using a scarifier.

This could easily and cheaply be prevented by spreading the gravel with the use of the four-wheeled gravel which is placed on each day should be spread in this way and made as smooth as possible before quitting work at night.

Later the constant use of the road drag would make many of those township gravel roads which have been cheaply built, as pleasant to drive over as many of the more costly state highways.

Probably no implements used in road building or maintenance has done so much to keep the roads constantly smooth as the potrol road drag and grader.
